Destiny Number

Pythagorean Name Numerology

11

You are extremely sensitive and intuitive.

The energy behind the destiny number 11 is of justice, of fair play and of strength that is used wisely. There are times when it is right to administer justice, but others when it is right to sit back and wait things out. The trick is to know which is which.

Your childhood was reasonable, but something made you keen to distance yourself from others. You may have distrusted adults or other children or been disinclined to listen to anything others had to say. You started out by being quiet and serious, but later you may have become opinionated, inflexible, and difficult, and it is possible that you are hiding an inferiority complex under an arrogant, uncaring, or defiant attitude.

If you find the right career outlet for your talents, and develop sensitivity toward others, you will become less self-absorbed. You have a good mind and some original ideas, but you are attracted to unconventional ideas and an unconventional lifestyle, so marriage, children, and a routine family life may never hold any appeal.

You have worked hard to gain confidence and overcome, at least to some extent, an in-born shyness. As a child, and into your early twenties, nervous energy may have caused you to bite your nails or express your nervousness in other ways.

You are vulnerable and you need to be more careful than most people when you choose friends. You seem an easy prey to predatory individuals. You will probably find yourself the victim of a con man or con woman more than once in your life.

In the eyes of most people, you are perceived as gentle; a safe harbour. People are drawn to you because, among other reasons, you radiate warmth and you are unthreatening.

Your dress is neat and clean. Your clothing should be comfortable, soft, and flowing. You should avoid plain and understated clothes.

"I am a philanthropist"

Helping and giving to others and being altruistic are your motivators. You use your wisdom to help others with open arms and heart. You have unconditional love for others and a connection to the spiritual realm.

You are naturally optimistic, but others can react negatively to this trait if you are not aware of your environment. Drama runs like a current in Motivation number 9's. Thankfully, you are also blessed with a streak of courage and boldness that helps you overcome roadblocks in your path. Sometimes you may appear distant, but you have a deep love for people. Sometimes this love for others is so deep you sacrifice your own health in the course of things. Be careful to take care of yourself, saying "no" when necessary for your well-being.

You are capable of being the guide, shedding light on how to include and accept others, as well as how to spread love all around.

ATTITUDE NUMBER

9

A number nine-person seems to be actual proof that saints and martyrs really exist. They are socially aware above all others, and they show great gentleness to other people. Their heart is always concerned with the welfare of the world at large. They possess great charisma and social allure, which they will use to promote their humanitarian ideals to other people. This will bring others who see the same vision closer to them and will assist them in their desire to heal the world. This can become a problem for the number nines because they may need to work on healing themselves before they can hope to help the world and its people. Sometimes, they need other people to fight for them since it can always be frustrating and exhausting to engage in battles designed to save other people.

PERSONALITY

You appear friendly and unpretentious and perceived as a gentle, safe harbour. Among other reasons, people are drawn to you because you look warm, soft, and nonthreatening.

You must be neat and make cleanliness an important part of your life. You may even be fussy about having everything exact in detail. You have a pleasing personality with gentle manners.

You have excellent taste and a fine sense of beauty. You have a keen sense of harmony and refinement, which is reflected through your graceful movements. You must study styles and adapt them to your Personality. Cultivate a knack of wearing simple clothes. Put aside loud or showy apparel. Instead, use soft, flowing, easy-to-wear, and neat clothing.

Exercise is important to your appearance. It will also be useful in promoting the level of strength you radiate. You are a wonderful listener who is also patient and understanding. You make others feel important and loved. You become tense in a disharmonious atmosphere.

You experienced quite a bit of negative criticism as a child, which made you shy growing up. You may be well past that shyness. Yet, a bit of vulnerability will remain with you and is often sensed by others.

Arguments leave you drained. You are a peacemaker, and others sense your desire for harmony. Yet you must avoid being the blank tablet for other's projections. Though you are strong and malleable, you bend when needed. People may underestimate your strength, yet this is a mistake.

FATES

Based on your full name

Jupiter can bring bolts of light, which seems to be the case here because these individuals are religious or have some political belief that rules their life, possibly due to some kind of epiphany. Once their beliefs become formed, they won't be tempted away from them.

These individuals are ruled by the energies of Chiron and the sign of Aquarius, so they are idealists who want to put the world to rights. They may be drawn to finding cures for diseases and won't be put off by the size of the job, so will spend their life achieving much in this field.

This number is associated with the earth, so the person's nature is sensible, practical and reliable. These folk are wise and realistic, and they work hard and get on well in life as a result. They are slow and thorough, but they get there in the end. They are devoted to their families and their homes.

Positive +

One of your gifts is your vulnerability, which often creates a safe place for others to open up to themselves and to you. Being vulnerable means that you don't try to protect yourself unnecessarily nor do you try to push away situations which you might need to experience for your personal growth. When you are vulnerable, people are able to see you for who you are, which is an important positive statement to make to the world. Indeed, another of your gifts is your honesty – about yourself and life – which serves to motivate people likewise.

With a Wisdom Number 2, you may be a powerful, silent leader who is only too happy to remain unseen in the background. For example, you might be assistant to a president of an organisation who consults you about every move and decision, listens to your advice attentively, and then acts upon it. You are extremely cooperative and do not push your opinions onto others. Ideally, you prefer to make joint decisions – 'two heads are better than one' – particularly where important issues are at stake. You seek to work with or befriend people who enjoy cooperation because it is incredibly enriching and rewarding.

Wherever you travel in life, you like to feel that you are making a contribution by sharing your gifts with others. You have a great capacity to love, and to give, and you are at your happiest when others' needs are satisfied. Indeed, you are able to step out of yourself and put others' needs before your own.

Negative -

With a Wisdom Number 2, you may be a taker who wants friends, family or associates to run around you and make sure all your needs are met. Sometimes this drains their resources, as you take as much as they can give, and you may even ask for more. You may be insensitive to what is happening to those around you, and have to learn that sometimes people have other things to attend to and can't give their attention exclusively to you. Perhaps you reject those who can't give you what you want because you think they don't like you, or because they don't want to help. However, learning to take may eventually teach you how to give, and paradoxically, you may give too much; balance is the key.

You are by nature a peacemaker, but you may create disharmony around you by playing one person off against another; this keeps people off balance in a manipulative way. It's a game to get everyone on your side which eventually backfires. In situations where cooperation is needed, you may be the one who gets on, at the others' expense, or you try to push the others out of the way so that you can get all the rewards for your joint efforts. Perhaps you are also dishonest with yourself. At times people sense your insincerity and back away from you, which may remind you to alter your course of actions for the better.

YOU MIGHT SELECT A PARTNER WHO IS YOUNGER OR OLDER THAN YOU.

MATCH WITH YOUR LIFEPATH NO

4

Based On Life Path No
Can be compared with other's Life Path No.

Your rebellious and secretive nature makes you compatible with a number 2 or 8. A number 5 will offer you good friends, but he or she will not be a life partner. Your secrets will be safe with a Number 5, but you can never be sure of what he or she is thinking, and this unpredictability will not be healthy for you. A Number 2 will be a good option for you because of their calm and tender personality.

The calm nature of a Number 2 will be a perfect foil for your turbulent nature. Just like Number 2, Number 8 is also calm and peaceful, and that will make them good partners for Number 4s. 8s can help 4s channel their extreme energies to something positive, thereby making both of them compatible for a marital relationship.

AS A WIFE

You have a great sense of comfort and decorate your home in a luxurious way. You are beautiful and talented but spend your time in an idle way, seeking entertainment. When you are of good or robust health, you make a devoted, charming and sympathetic wife.

LIFE CHALLENGE

3

First Challenge

Age: 0-32

Current challenge No.

The 3 asks you to hone your creative abilities. So work at your art—painting, sculpture, weaving, singing, dancing, writing, playing or composing music, or whatever form of creative self-expression feels right. If you do apply yourself in this way, opportunities will open up for you. The 3 also wants you to be social for fun and in the wider arena, too. So in addition to spending time with friends, get involved in community affairs. Maybe someone needs help planning that community arts festival. Whatever you do, be aware that the down side of the 3 is being scattered. Take care to ground yourself, and don't waste your energies.

Guard against emotional drama, distractions, moodiness.

- Your creativity is being channelled through many sources and expresses itself through you. Tune in.
- Express your feelings openly and with vulnerability.
- Take great joy in finding what fulfils you to the core of your being.
- Your imagination has no bounds!
- Staying positive attracts many opportunities.
- Opportunities are seized with bold action.

Peak Age: 32

Current Pinnacle No.

Compassion, Humanitarianism, Service, Creativity

This Pinnacle provides the opportunity to develop broad-mindedness and compassion toward others. Although it may be challenging at times, you'll come out the other end with greater tolerance, wisdom, and an appreciation of life. To make the most of this Pinnacle, you must forgive yourself and others, and let go of anything in your life that no longer serves you. When you release the need to control your environment and surrender to the universal flow of life, your success is guaranteed. This Pinnacle will increase your humanitarian desires and enhance your creative abilities so you can flourish in the arts.

Note: Numerology attempts to project major life changes and calls these monumental turns in the road, pinnacles. If it weren't for these big transformations in life, the highly successful would become apathetic, and those struggling would soon feel totally hopeless. Pinnacles in our lives give us the necessary change of pace and direction that is stimulating and hopeful. Pinnacles show the direction that progress will lead us.

Numerology helps you tap into your highest potential. Ultimately, it guides you to better understand yourself and those around you, tap into your intuition, make smarter choices, maximize your potential on certain days and in certain years, understand compatibility with friends and romantic partners, take advantage of auspicious timing, and decide when to act and when to wait.
